

It was announced on Thursday afternoon that the South Saskatchewan Regiment a large number of whom are Estevan boys, took part in the sensational United Nations raid on Dieppe Wednesday. Although details are not yet available it is reported that the Canadians covered themselves with glory in the daring Commando attack, giving it to the Hun exactly where spunky General Andy McNaughton said a couple of weeks ago they intended to give it to him—"right in the belly." These photos, taken by The Mercury two years ago when the S.S.R. was in training at Camp Shilo, show some of the familiar figures which won honor for Canada at Dieppe.
